ANNUAL MEETING OF ARIZONA ORANGE ASSN.

Election of a New Board of Directors.

The annual meeting of the Arizona Orange association was held yesterday afternoon in the directors' room of the Valley Bank, resulting in the election of the following named directors for the ensuing year: W. J. Murphy, Foster H. Rockwell, J. Q. A. King, Charles P. Munger, Rev. Mr. Seeringhaus.

A resolution was passed endorsing the horticultural law passed by the last legislature and calling upon the officials to endorse it. The resolution was passed unanimously.

Mr. Rockwell had on exhibition a lemon from Santa Paula, California, showing the effect of the mealy bug on citrus fruit. He also read a clipping from a paper published in that locality concerning the mealy bug pest and stating that it had done damage to the extent of from $75,000 to $100,000 in that vicinity this year. After the meeting of the stockholders, the newly elected directors held a meeting for organization, electing the following named officers: J. Q. A. King, president; Foster H. Rockwell, vice-president; C. P. Munger, secretary; W. H. Robinson, treasurer.

RETURNING VISITORS TO THE TUCSON SHOW

Generous Hospitality to All Guests
Made a Fine Impression.

The train that arrived from Tucson yesterday afternoon brought home a tired and perspiring crowd of Phoenixians who had been attending the big Mexican West Coast celebration. Instead of the usual motor car that is run in the afternoon the M. & P. had a two coach steam train waiting and both coaches were full of people. While Phoenix did not send half as many visitors to the big show as should have gone, there were more in attendance than was at first supposed, for they have been drifting back during the last two days, on all the trains.

Every returning visitor is loud in his praise of the treatment accorded by the citizens of Tucson. Most of them were entertained by friends at little or no expense, and much of the time Phoenix money was declared no good. Most of the officials from Phoenix returned yesterday, among them Col. J. H. McIntock. He said the banquet the night before was one of the finest he ever attended and was also one of the largest he ever attended. There were probably a couple of hundred present. General Thomas F. Wilson was toastmaster and filled the office admirably. Several fine addresses were made, among them a speech by Col. Greene who, though frequently attending such functions, is seldom a speaker.

Mention has already been made of the big parade on the 5th, which was all that has been said of it, and more. The Chinese citizens alone spent $1500 for their part of the display, and were gratified at capturing the prize for the most novel float, with their big dragon that came from Los Angeles. The Chinese in the parade were gorgeously attired in bright colored coats, yellow pants, or bloomers, and red sashes, all of silk.

Friday the notable guests, including General Torres, visited the public school, and General Torres, Governor Sloan and Chief Justice Kent addressed the children. General Torres made a very thoughtful speech and one that impressed all his hearers. Among other things he said he knew that Mexico could rely on the friendliness of the present generation in the territory, and when he saw how the younger generation was being brought up and educated, he said he felt an assurance that the spirit of amity would continue in the years to come.

The general says that Tucson has a remarkably fine school system, and better equipment just now than Phoenix has, or can have until her new buildings are erected. Tucson has a number of new and well appointed structures, and there is room for an expansion of several hundred more pupils before her buildings will be crowded.

But the overpowering impression of all the visitors was the generous hospitality of the Tucsonians toward all who came within their gates during the big celebration, which is bound to result in good for that city industrially as well as in many other ways.

THE PURPOSE.

Over and over the task was set:
Over and over I slighted the work:
But ever and always I know that yet
I must face and finish the thing I shrink.

Over and over the whip of pain
Has spurred and pushed with blow on blow:
As ever and always I tried in vain
To shun the labor I hated so.

Over and over I came this way
For just one purpose oh, stubborn soul—
And learn the lesson of Self-Control.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in May Nautilus.
